National Newspapers Index

National Newspaper Index provides quick access to the indexing of America's top five newspapers in one seamless search: The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Christian Science Monitor, Los Angeles Times and The Washington Post. Covers 1977 to present.

Accessing the National Newspapers Index:

From campus: Go to <http://libraries.cuny.edu/resource.htm>. Click on the database title.

From off campus: Go to <http://libraries.cuny.edu/resource.htm>. Click on the database title and follow the instructions provided at <http://libraries.cuny.edu/resource.htm#Directions>.

BASIC SEARCH:

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window displaying the National Newspaper Index Keyword Search page. The address bar shows the URL: http://web5.infotrac.galegroup.com/tw/infomark/0/1/1?url=rc6_MNI?sw_aep=nysl_me_cuny. The page features a blue sidebar on the left with navigation links: Help - Search, Title List, Subject guide, Relevance search, Keyword search (highlighted), Advanced search, and Start over. Below these are links for Back to ... Gale Group Databases and Library. The main content area includes a description of NOVEL (New York State Library's virtual library) and a link to the New Century Libraries web site. The National Newspaper Index title is centered. Below it is a yellow 'Keyword search' box with a search entry field containing 'journal* and plagiarism', a 'Search' button, and a 'Clear Form' button. Below the search box is a text prompt: 'Type words to search for. You can use AND, OR, NOT. Results are sorted by date.' Further down is a 'Limit the current search (optional)' section with radio buttons for 'all dates', 'before', 'on', and 'after', and a 'between' option with dropdown menus. A 'Browse' button is next to the 'to the following journal(s)' field. A 'History' section is also present. At the bottom, it states 'No Search Results' and 'National Newspaper Index has 4,604,028 articles and was last updated on May 3, 2006.' The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, several open applications, and the system clock at 1:48 PM.

1. Click in the "Search" box

2. Type in your search term(s)

NOTE: You can Limit your results by date and title.

3. Click on the "Search" button
