

Campus ID Card

Campus ID Card is the approved identification for access to the college. It is non-transferable and must be validated each semester. The Campus ID Card is the property of the City University of New York and may be subject to surrender when requested by a college official.

All School of Journalism students, faculty, and staff are required to have a valid Craig Newmark Graduate School of Journalism identification card while on campus. CUNY policy requires members of the college community to show their identification card when requested to do so by public safety officers or other officials of the college. Lending an ID card to another person or using someone else's ID card is prohibited.

For students, admissions will coordinate with Public Safety the issuing of student ID cards, generally on the first day of new student orientation.
